

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

STATKING Programmers Receive Certification

Cincinnati, OH – July 2, 2012 – STATKING Clinical Services, a Cincinnati-based Contract Research Organization (CRO), has announced that Mr. Ben Young and Mr. Sundar Srinivasan, Statistical Programmers, have completed further SAS® programming certifications. Both have now passed the appropriate examinations for Clinical Trials Programming Using SAS 9 – Accelerated Version. With this certification, they have been recognized by SAS Institute as having the skills necessary to provide complex SAS statistical programming support on clinical studies and submissions. Rod Lashley, STATKING Executive Vice President commented, “Our programmers are staying current with pharmaceutical industry trends and are enabling STATKING to provide excellence in statistical programming support for our clients.”
